

The following is a list of some donation centers for used items. This list is not comprehensive and there are many donation centers, consignment shops, and charities in Fayetteville and Cumberland County that may accept used items.

Regardless of whether you donate, sell, or consign your used items, it is important to reduce needless waste. Before recycling or disposing of an item, stop and think whether it may be useful to someone else. From clothes to sports equipment to building supplies, donating your item will keep it out of the landfill and help someone else save money.
