2nd Annual Pickin' on the Porch

Thursday, October 7, 2010
5:30pm – 9:00pm

Great barbeque and great entertainment—what more could you want?

Sustainable Sandhills cordially invites you to the 2nd Annual Pickin' on the Porch Backyard Barbeque and Acoustic Music Concert from 5:30 PM – 9 PM at the home of Jon and Caroline Parsons in Grays Creek, NC. The music will begin at 6 PM and feature local favorites The Parsons (yes, that's Jon and Caroline's string band!) and other special guests. Expect the music to run until 9 PM, and even later if the mood is right and the weather cooperates! This is a rain or shine event!

The perfect setting for this event is the Parsons' historic farmhouse--built in the 1840's--which has been in the family since before the Civil War! The old home sits on 26 acres, and the concert and dinner will be held in the spacious yard under a starry sky.

Purchase your tickets today:

Regional Sustainability Symposium

Wednesday, November 10, 2010 10:00am – 5:00pm
Carolina Hotel, 80 Carolina Vista Dr., Pinehurst, NC

Sustainable Sandhills and the Moore County Chamber of Commerce are excited to partner and host the Regional Sustainability Symposium!

Morning Keynote Speaker: Mr. Henry McKoy

Lunch Keynote Speaker: Mr. Addison D. Davis, IV \(Tad\)

We've all heard about the new energy economy, but the issues we face are beyond just energy. Learn how local businesses, corporations and thought-leading governments are using true sustainability thinking to drive innovation, competitive advantage and jobs across the entire economy! Mr. Henry McKoy, NC Assistant Secretary for Community Development, will open the symposium by sharing what it means to cultivate, develop and finance a business, community or built environment that promotes sustainability in the broadest sense. Following Corporate & Business and Community Sustainability Tracks, Mr. Tad Davis, Chief Executive Officer of the US Army Reserve Command, will provide the lunch keynote on Army Sustainability-A Decade of Experience. The afternoon session will consist of an interactive visual preference and assessment survey as we examine our community's future evolution and growth. This is the opportunity to have your voices and opinions heard about how you'd like to see our community progress over the coming years.

The Regional Sustainability Symposium will offer sustainability best practices learned and implemented by small and large companies, local governments and not-for-profit organizations. Share your ideas and own personal experiences with others during and in between the sessions. You'll have an opportunity to mingle with hundreds of others seeking to understand how innovative and sustainable business thinking is the real driver of the new global economy. Join us today, as sustainability IS the future of our economy.
